Gen'l. Steel To Move Edystone Plant Here

Industrial Castings To Be Produced Within Year At Commonweath

Consolidation of all foundry operations at the Commonwealth Division plant in Granite City, resulting in the closing of the Edystone, Pa., plant near Philadelphia before the end of the year was announced Friday by C. P. Whitehead, president of General Steel Industries, Inc.

Whitehead said facilities at the local plant, which now produces railway specialty and military castings, will be adopted to include production of the company's full line of industrial castings.

An increase of several hundred employees at the local plant is anticipated, and remodeling of foundry buildings is under way. There now are about 1,000 employees at the Commonwealth Division, while 700 are employed at the Edystone plant.

The continued decline of orders for industrial castings makes the consolidation of the foundry operation the only feasible solution to what has been a long-standing problem for the company, Whitehead said.

Edystone Not Profitable "The operation of the Edystone Division has not been profitable for the last few years," he added.

General Steel will definitely remain in the industrial castings business, and we have every intention of continuing production of these products at Granite City."

Edystone produces general industrial castings of the larger variety, such as power generating equipment and rolling equipment. The switch to the Commonwealth Division is to be gradual.

The Edystone plant was built in 1930 to produce large railway steam locomotive castings and later, after the decline of steam locomotive business, the plant was converted to production of industrial castings.

General Steel has its main office in Granite City. Its two main divisions are the Commonwealth, the National Roll Division at Avondale, Pa., the St. Louis Car Co., and the Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Co., both in St. Louis.

Action Expected On Bi-State Bond Sale Tomorrow

Action is expected at a meeting of the Bi-State Development Agency board tomorrow on an investment syndicate's proposal for purchase of revenue bonds to finance purchase and initial operation of a unified public transit system for the two-state metropolitan area.

The meeting, scheduled to begin at noon in the Bi-State office in St. Louis, is one originally set for Feb. 28. It was postponed after a spokesman for the investment syndicate said their proposal would be ready this week.

The syndicate announced plans to submit a proposal to Bi-State offering to buy $25,000,000 in revenue bonds. According to Bi-State plans, such bonds will be used to finance purchase of the 15 existing transit companies now serving the area, including Whitehead Coach Co. of Granite City.

In addition to purchase costs, the bonds will provide sufficient funds to finance an initial period of operation of the unified Bi-State system without profit. The revenue bonds are to be repaid from after operating profits.

The Bi-State agency has no taxing power, and no tax funds are involved in the unified transit plan.

Only a slight change in the lease district's 1961 rate of 39.2 cents per $100 assessed value is anticipated since the district's budget for the new year was virtually unchanged.

Total Rates
Using last year's lease district rate, the total 1962 tax rates for this year's collection of real and personal property taxes—based on $100 assessed valuation—follows:

Granite City—$3.97, up 5.9 cents.
Madison—$3.84, down 6.7 cents.
Venice—$3.72, down two mills.

Nameoki township—$3.41, down seven cents.

A Granite City taxpayer with a home assessed at $10,000, who paid about $300 property taxes last year, probably will pay $396 this year. In Madison, the tax bill on a similar home would be $384, compared to $391 last year; while in Venice, the taxes on a similar home would be $372 and would remain about the same.

In Nameoki township, depending on the location of the property, the tax bill on a home valued at $10,000 will be $341, compared to $348 last year.

County Rate Down
A sizeable drop in the county's tax rate from 29.4 cents last year to 21.2 cents this year (8.2 cents) more than accounted for the overall reduction in any of the Quad-Cities townships. Last year's 29.4 cent county rate was for 17 months operation instead of 12 months due to a change in the fiscal year arrangement.

The $3.97 tentative rate for Granite City equals $2.93 for each school district, up 1.6 cent, 83.5 cents for the municipality.

Breakdown Of New Tax Rates Announced

Levee District Figure Still Pending; Slight Changes In Totals

Breakdowns of taxing rates for governmental agencies in the Quad-Cities were made today by County Clerk Miss Eulalia Holz at Edwardsville following Thursday's announcement of tentative total rates.

The overall rates for township are subject to change upon receipt of the 1962 tax rate for the East Side Levee & Sanitary District. It is not expected to be received for several weeks. The levee district's rate is set in St. Clair county because most of the district is in that county.

Only a slight change in the lease district's 1961 rate of 39.2 cents per $100 assessed value is anticipated since the district's budget for the new year was virtually unchanged.

Three Quad-City Politicians On 1963 Levee Board Payroll

Three Quad-City politicians are on this year's payroll of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District—Christ Costoff, Madison Fourth Ward alderman; Harry A. Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor; and Frank Kimack, Venice township road commissioner. Costoff is Venice township Democratic chairman.

An inspection of the January and February payrolls by the Press-Record showed Costoff and Kimack were on the payroll both months and Briggs was entered for February.

Costoff, who lives at 1225a Madison avenue, is listed as a culvert inspector and received $242 in January and $300 in February. Briggs lives at 4265 Park street; James P. Kimack, 1919 Pontoon road; Louis Postawski, 808 Lee avenue; Walter Schroeder, 2207 East 24th street; James J. James, 2151a Edison street; Joseph Meleki, 802 Grand avenue; Orville Ross, 2309 Hodges avenue; George Lee, 111 Garver road, Eagle Lake Acres.

All five in the maintenance section as policemen, laborers or drivers.

Mr. Briggs was bound hand and foot with copper wire Friday morning by two masked men who robbed the levee operator, with her husband. She was left in the women's washroom by the bandits who made off with $190 in cash and liquor.

She and her husband, Pete Murgic, are proprietors of Pete & Mary's tavern, 2409 Lincoln street. Mrs. Murgic was alone in the back of the bar making coffee about 6 a.m. and preparing to open for the day.

When Mrs. Murgic was at the front door, a man, who told police, then there was a rattling in the back door. Thinking it was a customer, she unlocked the back door and looked out.

She saw a tan four-door auto parked on the lot behind the building, she said. A blond or light-haired woman about middle age was behind the wheel when she recalled, and two men were getting out. The headlights of the auto were on.

Mrs. Murgic closed the door and walked back to the bar.

She said the men entered and grabbed her from behind. Both men were wearing dark sweaters pulled over their heads. Eye holes were cut in the sweaters.

"You tie her up and I'll take care of the rest," one of the men had said. The men had brought lengths of thin copper wire with them. It already was cut to size. One of the men tied her hands and feet and left her in the washroom.

The other man rifled the till of $105 cash and took a quantity of liquor valued at about $85. The men also stole a pistol from the bar.

Mrs. Murgic was able to free herself in several minutes and called the police. The bandits were not rough with her, she said and her she would not be hurt if she cooperated.

Although the bandits did not display any weapons, a snub-nose .38-caliber pistol was found on the parking lot by police. An attorney is now being made to trace the weapon. It is believed the robbers dropped it in their flight. They left one handkerchief and a pair of socks. Mrs. Murgic recalled.

Mrs. Murgic, 46, said it was the first time to their establishment had been robbed.

Artistic Aspects Of Football Are Noted In Article

Bone-crushing gridiron action would seem to have little connection with school art instruction, and the sport of football by late winter has been gone from the Granite City scene for more than three months.

But football is very much in the news as a result of an article by Edward F. Mosie, 2800 Fortune drive, an arts and crafts teacher at Coolidge Junior High School. Titled "Following a Moving Line," it appears in the current issue of The Arts and Activities Magazine, a national publication.

The article stems from a discussion among the school district art faculty members conducted by Eugene Alaisi, director. He noted the possibilities of incorporating creative artwork into the instruction program.

The art magazine's regular features articles and examples of original art creations. When Mosie developed the moving line concept, Alaisi labeled it as "an idea with a difference" and contacted P. Lewis Hoover, editor. The article resulted.

Pattered from Movement, what does all this have to do with football? Mosie received his inspiration while watching football passing drills last fall. He was fascinated by the footwork, the intricate and the movements of the players and the piskin.

While sports events are regarded as ideal for use in unit development, they are only an example of what can result from creative, imaginative thought, Alaisi believes.

On the basis that such an approach can aid children in developing originality, self-expression and knowledge of design compatibility, it has been added to the classroom work.

From line drawings, the project has progressed to the graphing field, with rubber block printing used to create multi-colored designs on paper and cloth.

A demonstration of the technique was given at the last convention of the Illinois Art Education Association.

"Footprints, matches and soda straws also are used in creating line motifs, and an article on 'Tissue Paper Painting' currently is being considered for publication by The Arts and Activities Magazine. It was written by Ronald L. Ward, 3001 Marvillie road, also a Coolidge art teacher.

Development of art guides and coordination of art supply orders are handled by Alaisi in addition to the faculty meetings and direct classroom work and demonstrations with elementary instructors and the junior high and high school art teachers.

The rates are combined here in the way that they affect the majority of people in the local areas. For persons in different governmental groupings, the rates will vary accordingly.

Long Lake fire district residents should add 8.8 cents (a drop of four mills from last year) to the other rates in Nameoki township to determine their total rates. Those in the Miracle Manor-Bellemeire Place street lighting district should add 9.3 cents (a drop of seven mills from last year). In the State Park Place street lighting district, 10 cents should be added. The rate is unchanged from last year.

Nameoki township residents in the Madison school district should substitute that rate for the Granite City school district rate. Those in the city of Madison should add the city tax rate.

Venice township residents in the Granite City school district should use that district's rate. In all cases, the exact rate can be found by adding the rates of the governmental areas in which each taxpayer resides.

The procedure outlined enables property owners to determine their new combined tax rate immediately. An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

The levee district rate is subject to change, based on the amount set in St. Clair county. Also pending for State Park Place residents is the State Park fire district and Collinsville.

Salvation Army Officers Installed; Report Given

Harry Johnson, Madison postmaster, was installed Thursday night as chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board at an annual meeting at the Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church. He succeeds Eugene R. Burrier.

Brig. Gordon Foubister, Salvation Army divisional commander, was installing officers and principal speaker at the meeting. Capt. Mildred Walker, officer in charge of the Granite City post, presented a resume of the annual report.

Other officers installed were Albert Michel, vice-chairman; Arthur Harris, secretary; and Roy Lynn, treasurer. Standing committees for the coming year also were named.

The Salvation Army provided food for 1755 persons through Christmas food baskets last year, Capt. Walker reported, and 70 children were given shoes and clothing. An additional 530 persons were visited in institutions or received gifts or publications, and 1202 toys and gifts were given through the Salvation Army toy shop.

Capt. Walker reported 897 indoor and outdoor religious services, classes and group activities during 1962, with a combined total attendance of 16,292.

While the underlying motive and purpose of all Salvation Army work is to bring men, women, boys and girls into a personal relationship with God, she said, the organization has never been alert to the material needs of the people it serves.

Emergency Needs Met

During the year, Capt. Walker reported, 471 persons were aided through gifts of emergency food supplies, clothing, fuel and similar needs. She said 292 transient and homeless persons were aided, and 346 "Golden Agers" were served.

The commander pointed out that in addition to services applied directly by the Quad-City post, the Salvation Army offers many state-wide and inter-state services. For example, she said, 19 Madison county cases were referred to Booth Memorial Home and Hospital for unwed mothers during the past year.

Other services include the Inquiry Bureau, a world-wide network for locating missing persons; the Harbor Light program for alcoholic rehabilitation; Correctional Services Department for work among prisoners, parolees and their families; Women's Emergency Lodges for women and children in need of food and shelter temporarily; and a number of similar services.

The Granite City Salvation Army had an income totaling $34,965 during 1962, Capt. Walker reported. Of this $18,844 was provided by the United Fund. Donations added $585, and self-earned operating income added $534. The rest was from balances on hand.

Services Greatest Cost

Expenditures during the year included $15,517 for services and activities, $9106 for salaries and wages, $3767 for building and equipment and $3380 for communications, transportation and administration.

Johnson also was named chairman of the executive committee, with Harris and Michel as members. John Solenberger was named coordinating committee chairman, with Harris and Harry Elbe to serve as members.

Other committees named are as follows:

Property: George Stearns, chairman; Fred Schuman and Randall Robertson; Financial: Henry Karandjeff, chairman; Arthur Frazier, Michel, Lynn, Bequest, Schuman, chairman; Stearns, Karandjeff and Albert Belt.

Youth: Irby Todd, chairman; Christ Pashoff, Harris and Robert Eiler; Welfare: Al Ward Jr., chairman; Alfred Stoeber; Claude Echols and Lavern Parker; Public Relations: Lynn, chairman; Gerald Broadway and C. E. Townsend; and Disaster: Johnson, chairman; Eugene Burnett and Lester Salem.

Awards Presented

The meeting was attended by 40 persons, including representatives of Catholic Charities, Protestant Welfare Association, Inc., and the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross.

"Bell-Ringer" awards were presented by 1962 Tree of Lights Chairman Carl Graham to six organizations which contributed their time in naming Christmas kettles stands soliciting funds.

Receiving the awards were the Business and Professional Women's Club, which collected $284; the Granite City Rotary Club, $198; Moose Lodge 272, $88; Utility Workers' Union Local 405, $38; the Salvation Army Girl Girdles, $40; and the Granite City Police Department, $33.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the Press-Record, the Granite City Women's Association, the Eagles Lodge and the Eagle Auxiliary.

Industrial Leaders Take Part In Meeting Of NSA Chapter

Industrial leaders and their secretaries participated in a dinner meeting and program of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, Thursday evening in the new Holiday Inn's Oak Room. About 40 were present.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Betty May, president of the chapter. In order for the business session to gain a better understanding of the chapter and to learn how the business meetings are conducted, it was decided that the usual procedure would be reviewed and the business meeting held prior to the program.

Mrs. May gave a short talk on the purpose and aims of the secretarial organization, after which she introduced the moderator for the secretaries' panel, Mrs. Wanda MacDonough of the American National Bank.

The panel, consisting of representative secretaries from A. O. Smith Corp., General Steel Industries, Galloway-Von Gruenigen Co., Johns-Manville Products Corp., and Royal Crown Cola Co., answered questions on a variety of subjects, including girls smoking in their office, proper apparel for today's secretary, the NSA code of ethics, keeping the boss informed, the hardest part of a secretary's job, the office grapevine and inter-office romances.

One question was "What is the difference between a secretary and a stenographer?" It was pointed out a secretary is involved with the business matters, but a stenographer does not, but more work without direction, handles routine matters in the boss' absence and that while a stenographer works for executives; a secretary works with them.

Desirable qualities in a boss, according to the panel, are—tact, respect, cooperation, understanding and appreciation. The discussion brought out the organization is supported by local employers who not only aid in getting the chapter organized, but also help in sponsoring the yearly dues and monthly meeting expenses.

Eighteen chapter members and the following guests were present: including Francis Mc-

Bride, Norman LeTourneau, Thomas Christian, Frank Barlow, Mrs. Anita Shoyanoff, and Miss Dolores Bourisav of General Steel Industries, Inc.; Thomas Stinson, president Nesco Steel Barrel Co.; J. H. Marlow and C. J. Blumestein, A. O. Smith Corp.; Larry Sidersen, Sidersen Supply; John Hagan, Galloway-Von Gruenigen; Maurice Miles, Royal Crown Cola; Richard Kacera, Kacera Distributing Co.; W. E. Buechner and H. J. Kohler, Johns-Manville Products Corp.; Al Schlesinger, Kisco Boiler & Engineering Co.; Mrs. Mary Arnold, Missions; River Fuel Corp.; Mrs. Irene Louis and Mrs. Marie Naveau; Mrs. Helen Kuehn, Kuehn, S. M. Wilson Co.; and Mrs. Dorothy Ashford, Transportation Material Command.

Ballots were turned in by the members for their choice of a candidate for the L.A.C.E. Award which will be presented at the Secretaries' Tea Wednesday, April 24. President May requested those who had not returned in ballots to send them to her as soon as possible.

The nominating committee presented its slate of candidates for officers as follows: president, Dorothy Lawrence; vice-president, Daris Robinson; recording secretary, Jeanette Titani; corresponding secretary, Shirley Schwendemann; and treasurer, Wanda MacDonough. The election will take place at the annual business meeting May 2.

Civic committee chairman, Connette Titani announced envelopes to be typed for the Easter Seal Campaign, would be distributed this week with stuffing to take place two nights later.

A request was also made for five volunteers to help with the membership drive of the Community Concert Association, and the ways and means chairman, Wanda MacDonough, reminded members of a rummage sale scheduled for March 30 at the IOOF hall.

The next chapter meeting will be held April 4 at which time an educational program will be presented. The chapter is striving for 15 new members by the end of April.

No Plans For Moving Of Cemetery Reported

A report was received Friday that a coffin had been uncovered and removed within the past few days from the old Old Fellows Cemetery west of Route 67a, but it was learned that there are no plans for additional transfers from the cemetery. Some of the headstones are lying on the ground, but this is attributed to vandalism, weather and soil erosion.

Care of the site is up to the families of those buried there, since no perpetual care arrangements exist. Edward Cash, noble grand of the Nameold Old Fellows lodge, said the lodge once was associated with the cemetery but no longer has jurisdiction over it. The area is overgrown with weeds.

Chain Of Rocks Locks Is Back In Operation

Chain of Rocks Locks 27 resumed operations Thursday afternoon following shutdown of several days to repair winter damage. The first tow was locked through at 2:57 p.m.

Operations were suspended Tuesday afternoon when high water precluded the use of the auxiliary locks. Normally, the routine repair job would have gone unnoticed and the auxiliary facilities used.

Winter damage is caused by the pressure of thousands of pounds against the locks. It had been announced by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers that the work would take as long as a week. Round-the-clock repair work put the locks back in service, however, in only two days.

56-Year Employee At GC Steel Co. Retires

Lost through retirement was Granite City Steel Company's oldest employee in length of service—Henry Kahle, who was with the steel mill for more than 56 years.

Kahle, 72, was a member of the plant police force, and his retirement was announced yesterday.

Still physically fit and mentally sharp, Kahle said he decided to retire while he is still able to enjoy the benefits he had earned over the years. He and his wife, Emma, live at 2635 Iowa street.

He can quickly quote dates and places of importance from his long mill career, which began Oct. 17, 1906. He remembers on what days he transferred to various departments, and he remembers names of places and people in the community that have long since passed into history.

1st Job—$1.50 A Day
Kahle's first Granite City Steel job was feeding the shears on the old tin mills. "We received $1.20 a day," he recalls, "and worked harder to get it than anybody has to work in the plant today."

From his first job, he progressed through other jobs on the tin mills—to sawbooby, rougher, and roller. A big percentage of the men of the rolling mills were immigrants in those days, and Henry Kahle quickly picked up the nickname "Heine"—and a name that has stuck with him ever since. He's a native of Litchfield.

In 1940, after the tin mills had gone down for the last time, Kahle transferred to the Open Hearth department, where he worked as a third helper. In May 1941, he transferred to the plant police department, serving

Pictureque Names

Kahle recalled some of the picturesque names of saloons and boarding houses in the early 1900s. The Black Bear saloon was one of the most popular—located back of the Washington Theater. Then there was the Prairie Rooster on Omaha street. Some of the more familiar boarding houses included the Blue Goose, Ink Bottle Row, Whiskey Three and the Happy Home.

His Happy Home was so called because this was where newcomers from the east could always count on finding lodging if all the other places were filled.

Lake Of Belcher Water

Kahle recalls that in the early 1900s, the area at 20th and Nash was the shore of a lake that extended two or three blocks in area, inside the present plant boundaries. The lake contained belcher water from an underground well that has since been capped. The well was struck in an early drilling for oil.

"I remember at night people would come to the lake with jugs and bottles and fill them with belcher water from the lake," Kahle said.

The steel mill veteran also recalled that those were the days of gas lights and wooden sidewalks in Granite City—city limits of which was 23rd street.

"We had boardwalks two feet high," he said, "because of the high water we had occasionally." He remembered that special trains would bring men in from St. Louis to work in the mills, depositing them virtually at their job location inside the plant. The "Yellow Hammer" was the name of the special street car from the ferry which plied between Venice and St. Louis.

Postmasters Attending

Postmasters attending and completing required subjects will receive merit certificates. Kelleher and Snyder are scheduled to speak at a banquet this evening.

Sunday Closing Proposed

The first Sunday closing law proposal made its appearance last week. The bill is said to have the support of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association. Violations would be punishable by fines ranging from $100 to $500 and/or 30 days in jail.

The proposal would not impose the ban on sales of drug, medical and surgical supplies, restaurants and delicatessen stores, but would take in automobile agencies, groceries and department stores. Exempted would be public utilities, taverns and gasoline stations. The bill is not a "blue law" proposal, it was reported.

Bills also have been introduced to require manufacturers to be licensed, increasing from five to seven the membership of the state central surgery and dentistry examining committee and to provide for incorporation supervision regulation and dissolution of dental service plan operation.

Other new legislation last week by south central and southern Illinois members included:

By Rep. Powell—Increases annual salary of assistant state

Proposal To Exempt Gov't. Agencies From Ill. Sales Tax

(Special from Springfield)

Governmental agencies would be exempt from payment of Illinois state sales, occupation and users taxes under legislation offered in the Senate of the Illinois General Assembly last week.

The chief author, Sen. Edw. C. Oberacher (D-S Shelbyville), said the state would lose $14 million in annual revenue but would increase sales and equipment for business firms.

The measure had bipartisan support, and the exemption was sought by private industry which had complained Illinois companies are losing federal contracts because Illinois taxes must be added to the bills. Sponsors included 13 Democrats and 11 Republicans. Among them were Sen. Paul Simon and Alan Dixon.

Emergency appropriations totaling $1,178,609 for equipping new buildings at five state-owned universities are provided in two bills co-sponsored by Sen. Oberacher, Simon, and Sen. Ziegler, Dixon, and Lyons. The appropriations would be $559,000 for Southern Illinois, $125,000 for Eastern, $417,609 for Northern, and $417,609 for Western.

Rep. Paul Power (D-Vernon) was chief author of a series of 13 bills recommended by the Illinois Legislative Audit Commission. The bills would tighten up on collection of revenue by various state agencies, suggest certain fees to be charged for services, and that fines imposed for traffic violations be turned into the state safety department and then to the state treasury.

2nd Terms For Sheriffs
Sen. Simon also has submitted a proposal to amend the state treasurers and sheriffs to select themselves and to establish civil service systems in the offices of county treasurers and sheriffs.

The proposed amendment has been voted on by the state electorate and rejected three times. Also last week a bill was proposed to abolish the state's $34 million a year driver education program in high schools. It was submitted by Rep. Warren Wood (R-Plainfield). This is opposed by the Gov. Kerner.

Legislation embraced in a series of 71 bills to limit real estate property assessment to 55% of current market valuation was offered in the House last week. Among the sponsors were Lloyd "Curly" Harris (D-Granite City) Ralph T. Smith (R) and Leola Kennedy (D) both of Alton.

Another bill in the House last week is to create a commission to make a county-by-county study of matters pertaining to public aid and assistance. The study would include fraudulent practices, illegitimacy, effects of colling on grants, feasibility of expanded foster home care and a $200,000 appropriation for expenses of the commission.

International Dinner Tops Girl Scout Week Events

International friendship will be the central theme of a week of Girl Scout activities beginning at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist Church, a highlight of Girl Scout Week activities here.

Adult leaders of District Four of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will dress in authentic costumes of other lands, and the dinner will feature a variety of exotic foods.

Thursday is International Friendship Day for the 45,000 girls and adult leaders of the River Bluffs Council, who are celebrating the 51st anniversary of Girl Scouting in the U. S. with special events all week.

The international theme is based on the world wide Girl Scout movement, with programs and discussions throughout the River Bluffs Council area to stress participation in scouting by girls from other countries.

Actual birthday of Girl Scouting in America is tomorrow, which has been designated Citizenship Day, Girl Scout color guards throughout the River Bluffs Council area, including those in the Quad-Cities, will raise the flag tomorrow morning at their schools.

Retreat Ceremonies Appropriate color retiring ceremonies will also be performed in some areas of the council by uniformed scouts at the close of the school day. The flag raising and retreat ceremonies depend on favorable weather.

Friday has been dedicated to promotion of Girl Scout arts and crafts, with girls to display their handwork. In the Quad-Cities, stores and business firms will display scout exhibits in their windows.

Throughout the River Bluffs Council area, special programs are planned all week long to highlight the anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States. There are now more than 3,500,000 girls and adults in Girl Scout units throughout the nation.

In the Quad-Cities, which form District Four of the River Bluffs Council area, there are approximately 2083 girls and 129 adult leaders now engaged in Girl Scouting. They are in 132 separate Girl Scout and Brownie units.

Scout leaders from the Quad-Cities plan an important role in the leadership of the council. Mrs. George Eubanks, 3014 Franklin avenue, is council first vice-president, and Mrs. Jesse Tawney, 1818 Fourth street, Madison, is treasurer.

Council members at large from District Four include Mrs. Charles Rodell, 9 Del Rio drive;

Mrs. Charles Delp, Highway 67A; A. J. Mueller, 3803 Highway 111; and Mrs. Bernard Miller Jr., 1618 Lindell blvd., who is district chairman.

Neighborhood Leaders District Four is divided into five neighborhoods, each with its own chairman and troop consultants and organizers. Troops within each neighborhood in turn have their own leaders.

Miss Dorothy Hinson, 1530 Third street, Madison, is Neighborhood One chairman. Chairman of Neighborhood Two is Mrs. Wilma Hancock, 2444 Bryn avenue, and Neighborhood Three chairman is Mrs. Louise Santagato, 2525 Edwards street. Neighborhood Four chairman is Mrs. Edward Votaw, 3020 Willow avenue.

Mrs. Miller, in addition to serving as district chairman, is chairman of Neighborhood Five. These leaders, along with hundreds of others throughout the Quad-Cities and the entire River Bluffs Council area, are operating with the scouts of the troops they serve to bring the Girl Scout program to the attention of the public this week.

Tent Care Subject Of Scout Roundtable Care and repair of canvas tents will be the major topic of discussion at a Boy Scout roundtable session at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Long Lake fire station.

Demonstrations will be given by Alex Kary, Troop 56 scoutmaster; Zane Miller, roundtable commissioner; Ray Gaudet, Troop 96 scoutmaster; Gerald Grider, Troop 62 scoutmaster; and George E. Bass, Troop 16 scoutmaster; and Peter Carich, Troop 13 scoutmaster.

FLUOROSIS

Chronic fluorine poisoning, sometimes marked by mottling of tooth enamel. Often results from too much fluoride in drinking water.

—Third Edition—Taber's Cyclopedia Medical Dictionary

Safety Factor of Arsenic 10-of Fluorine Zero

"FLUORINE interferes with the normal calcification of the teeth, during the process of their formation, so that the affected teeth, in addition to being usually discolored and ugly in appearance, are structurally weak and deteriorate early in life. For this reason, it is especially important that fluorine be avoided during the period of tooth formation, that is, from birth to the age of 12 years."

Cohan Challenges Brigg's Records; Studies Books

Political differences between two supervisor candidates in Nameoki township were aired Saturday morning at the town hall where Joseph Cohan met with Supervisor Harry Briggs to go over the township records.

Cohan, who currently is tax assessor and is heading the Township Trustees Party for the April 2 election, had appeared at last week's regular town board meeting and presented a written request to see the records. He challenged that records were being maintained properly.

Since Supervisor Briggs, who heads the Continued Progress Party ticket in a bid for reelection, did not attend the board meeting, and Town Clerk John Karlechik Jr. also was unable to attend, Cohan's request for a Saturday inspection of records was sealed and delivered to the clerk.

Present at the town hall Saturday morning when Cohan and a running mate, Harold Massa, candidate for highway commissioner, appeared were Briggs, Karlechik, Town Auditors Gene Bortner and Herbert Eoley and Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks. Later, former town clerk Willard Hicks, arrived.

Minute Book Unsigned
Cohan questioned closely the failure of signatures of the canvassing board to be on the minute book for the results of the April 4, 1961, township election. Karlechik and Hicks both were unable to explain the absence of the signatures in the book, but Karlechik produced the vote canvass book which indicated the vote had been canvassed. The book signed April 7 by Briggs, Hicks and Cohan.

Suspect Arson In Venice Auto Fires

Venice police are investigating the possible arson of two parked autos which were found burning at Douglas and E. Merceda streets at 10:15 p.m. Saturday. The flames were quickly extinguished, and bits of grass and paper were found in the vehicles.

The autos were owned by T. C. Williams, 132 Lee Wright Homes, and Charles Mitchell, 405 East St. Louis. A witness told police he saw a man in a long light colored coat near the auto a short time earlier.

1960-61 operations also were examined by Cohan. He questioned the audit and was shown minutes of the meeting during which the supervisor's annual reports were approved for that fiscal year.

Cohan contends township relief expenses are "too high" and said he plans drastic reductions of caseload and costs if elected. Briggs pointed out the township qualifies for state assistance and the state in sharing relief costs goes over the township relief cases and expenditures.

Cohan was at the relief office for nearly two hours conferring the 1960-61 records. "I will continue to look into the records until I'm satisfied they've been kept properly," he said.

Records of male drivers in the 16 to 20-year-old age group showed that the high school driver education group had 500 fewer convictions and/or accidents than the non-driver education group.

Results of the Illinois study, conducted by the Department of Health and Safety Education of the University of Illinois on data supplied by the Secretary of State, have been made known by Gov. Otto Kerner.

"Last September I voiced my opposition to any change in the reimbursement Driver Education Program," said Gov. Kerner. "My position on this has not changed and the results of this study confirm the value of our state program."

The study involved more than 500,000 Illinois teen-agers.

Reported cases of accidental poisoning among children under 12 have practically doubled since 1959, Dr. Franklin Szedlar, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, reported.

Last year about 10,000 cases were reported by the 18 poison control centers in the state, according to provisional figures. All but a small number of these poisonings occurred in children under five years of age, with the highest percentage in the one to three year age bracket.

An unusual number of deaths from poisoning occurred in the state last year, according to preliminary figures. All but a small number of these poisonings occurred in children under five years of age, with the highest percentage in the one to three year age bracket.

This ruling is a deliberate one to interest the steady, long-term American saver. And it's one of many reasons why U.S. Savings Bonds are one of the world's soundest securities.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Although the U.S. Treasury issues $5 million separate Series E Savings Bonds last year to you and your fellow Americans, only about 5,000 of them were the big $10,000 denomination.

One reason for the limited demand for these big babies is it takes $7,500 to buy one. Another is you can only buy one a year. In fact, whatever size Bonds you buy, you can only buy $10,000 worth in your own name in any one calendar year.

Why not start setting part of your earnings aside each month for U.S. Savings Bonds? Even if you collect only the $25 variety, you'll be building for your own future while you help your country today.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

You get $4 for every $3 at maturity. Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, or destroyed. You can save automatically on Payroll Savings.

DIFFICULT TO HEAR
COUNCIL DISCUSSIONS
To the Editor:

Taxpayers, are you going to a council meeting lately? If you have, you may not return, because our mayor and some aldermen talk so loud you can't hear them, as if everything is top secret.

There is a speaker's survey, or maybe it's just a showpiece, or maybe it's broke and they don't want it repaired, due to the fact we can't hear everything said.

There was a gentleman with Nunn's opponent's name on his shirt. It said, "Vote Bliven." Let's all try to vote this man beat Nunn. This, I think, would help our council greatly. Also, if Buster Boyd could win against LeMaster it would be a big help.

Let's rid our town of the machine of "yes men" and put in some of the taxpayers and city as a whole.

We still have some good people on the council. I mention Partney, Johnson, Rutledge and Mrs. Betine. We are still for the people. Maybe these people have some faults, but we all do. No one's perfect.

I've seen people come to Sam Whitmer at work and other places with problems in and out of their wards, and he has tried to help them. He was man enough to change his mind on the $25,000 engineer fee.

If he and the other few who help, maybe this town could be given back to the people and not just to the "yes men."

BELIEVES DATA FROM CANDIDATE DECEIVE
To the Editor:

Permit me to ask some pointed questions of a Sixth Ward candidate for alderman. I ask for one principal reason, although obviously there are others.

Excessive ayes are being spent to win an office which pays very little. I estimate he has spent more than $300 for newspaper advertising since the first of the year. Why? Not one of the incumbents or other challengers has found it necessary to do this.

I estimate he could have spent $400 for campaign signs posted throughout the ward, and still have money left over. Why? Not one of the incumbents or other challengers has found it necessary to do this.

Double Continues On Whether A

State Income Tax Would Be Legal

There is more than a little question about whether a tax proposal by Rep. J. W. Russell will pass the state legislature, but we agree that it would be interesting to see how the courts would rule on his plan to levy an income tax of 2%.

Legal scholars have debated for several decades whether any kind of income tax is permitted by the present Illinois constitution. This would settle the question, although it should be noted that many doubt that a levy on income is needed.

Similar bills have gotten nowhere in the past, but it is obvious the current sponsor is making a play for widespread support. He included in the proposal a one-cent sales tax to start a stampede of support. A new Revenue Article likely to be submitted to voters next year potentially offers a sounder solution, and one in which the people would have a say.

Despite the fact that budget planners are projecting increased spending of $300 million in the 1963-65 biennium, the new item in the General Assembly budget is a tax on income.

Also introduced by Sen. R. R. Canfield, the proposed legislation would eliminate those devices that masquerade as pinballs but in reality have mechanisms similar to slot machines. Together with a new law prohibiting the use of slot machines, the measure could be another weapon for keeping the gambling element on the run.

Pinballs Used For Gambling Drain

$30 Million A Year From Illinois

Illinois will be $30 million a year richer, the sponsors report, if the legislature adopts a bill outlawing gambling slot machines.

This is the estimate of the yearly take, given by Rep. A. W. Hachmeister, who joins with federal authorities in linking such machines to the crime syndicate.

Also introduced by Sen. R. R. Canfield, the proposed legislation would eliminate those devices that masquerade as pinballs but in reality have mechanisms similar to slot machines. Together with a new law prohibiting the use of slot machines, the measure could be another weapon for keeping the gambling element on the run.

Proposed REA Bill

Should Not Be Passed

Rural electric cooperatives should stay within their original scope of service areas, say critics of a proposed bill to expand their power.

Opponents of the bill, which would grant them exclusive and perpetual rights—a move that they said would be defeated—REA groups are stressing their supposed right to continue operating in specific areas, regardless of the interests of the people.

The purpose of the bill is to serve the people, not to serve the interests of a few.

Now, the top bill of the day—distributing the taxpayers' money like a pie—has a new twist. It says by no means.

By his constituents he was long known as a clear conscience and spot being bounded. A roll call vote was taken, to the king it looked like.

Partney, Rutledge, Johnson, Betine and Whitmer let out a shout when the king's vote nearly backed them to the wall. The king and his court let out a yell and appealed to retiring John for help.

John scanned the statute books for an answer and could find no legal vote transfer. Friends, when you meet Sam Whitmer on the back and side of his hand.

Have more respect, boys, for tradition would take notice of the king's vote. When, when you face the voters, you must break and brag. Don't break your common rule; then count the votes of victory in the ballot box.

COMPARES COUNCIL WITH

KING MIDAS' COURT

To the Editor:

The audience sat patiently waiting. The session would bring forth heavy debate. The hour was 15 minutes past eight; King Midas and his court were waiting.

In walked 12 members, some with their morale broken—their heads bowed and their spirits outspoken. The king mounted his parliamentary maddle, his left hand on his forehead and his right on the gavel.

Immediately the session was called to order, the visitors began to speak. The king's court was in a state of confusion.

However, I cannot agree when you write in your editorial that this reflects one hundred percent agreement on the part of the council.

First on the agenda, all bills were allowed; the recipients smiled and bowed. Next, the geographical locations but to provide service where there were not enough people to finance power from regular utilities.

There is no rhyme or reason for the federal government—which is all of us—to give anyone 2% of money to help them to compete with firms owned by the public that pay their share of taxes.

Such loans cost the government 4%; the difference represents another tax drain.

Utilities are strictly regulated by the Illinois Commerce Commission, and the public utility law, cooperatives would be entirely unregulated.

Because it would foster such unequal competition, with taxpayers picking up the bill, the proposal should not be passed.

Faults of the younger generation stem from faults of the older generation.

Temporary Closing Illustrates

Importance Of Canal Locks Here

There is a popular joke to the effect that "I stopped at Philadelphia (or Boston), but it was closed."

It is almost as preposterous to visualize the Mississippi River being "closed." Yet, that was the practical effect last week of a combination of high water and ice damage at the mammoth Chain of Rocks canal locks south of the Port of Granite City.

Now that the dangerous Chain of Rocks reach of the Mississippi itself has been permanently eliminated as a route through water traffic, the local canal and locks system takes on added regional, national and international significance.

The unexpected closing having made this point painfully apparent, all can be thankful that the repairs have been made and the mightiest of rivers no longer is "closed."

Communicable Diseases

On Decline In State

Except for polio cases, which numbered 64 in 1957 and 26 in 1958, communicable diseases generally showed lower incidence in Illinois last year. The State Department of Public Health gives credit for the decline to widespread use of drugs, vaccines and serums.

Diseases that decreased included infectious hepatitis, diphtheria, typhoid fever, undulant fever, rheumatic fever, encephalitis and meningitis. There were no smallpox cases for the 15th consecutive year, although outbreaks were reported in other parts of the world.

Noting that hepatitis still affected 2204 persons and rheumatic fever 1585, Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, department director, is urging still further reductions this year. Vaccines are available for such ailments as whooping cough, smallpox, polio, tetanus, diphtheria and typhoid fever, and the state also aids in distribution of tetanus and diphtheria antitoxins, rabies vaccine, gamma globulin and biological preparation for testing purposes.

Nation Should Receive

Credit For Aid It Gives

In pleading full support of basic United Nations activities and services, Americans need not feel obliged to endorse every extension of them that is suggested, say critics of a large-scale foreign aid program.

As noted in an article elsewhere on this page, citizens should feel free to express their views on such topics as their consciences suggest.

The UN has had many achievements in its 17-year history and has the potential for even greater successes in the future. The increased mutual understanding and respect provided among the new nations are not so naive that they ignore this fact.

Yet, it is not a world government, with unfettered authority to enforce its will on the member States. It is not so powerful that it can totally disregard its standing among other countries of the world. We attach few "strings" to our assistance; let this nation's huge foreign aid program at least continue to be able to come from the U. S.

away from him. I want to re-learn from him the best democratic system in the whole wide world.

Our superintendent of streets is not any less a slave to Nunn's clique. What a shame an elected official, instead of using his office to help the people, takes orders from Nunn.

People of Granite City, there are many things wrong with the U. S. Government. There are intelligent men running against this clique. Let's all get out and vote. Let's all get out and vote. Let's all get out and vote.

It will take a lot of hard work, but it can be done. I'm sure, if we elect upright and intelligent men to our city, let's all get out and vote. Let's all get out and vote. Let's all get out and vote.

Let's clean up this mess. Let's clean up this mess. Let's clean up this mess.

DEEDS OF POLITICIANS

CAN MAKE OTHERS SUFFER

To the Editor:

A politician—May I speak not with forked tongue, or talk from two sides of my mouth, but from my breast, be sprung words filled with honesty and grace.

Though temptation my soul invade, and my principles be tried, like a rock I won't be swayed, with conscience as my guide.

If I should weaken on the way, in my heart's thought I keep, with the man Paulding, I cast shadows that cause someone to weep.

THE PAST SPEAK

Why is it so infernally hard for us to stand up like men and admit our errors and mistakes? Just as I had a lot on my mind and was worrying about my little son in the hospital, I continued in an attempt to be excused.

This was the reason for the driver's non-observance of the law—a completely unexcusable reason.

All of us have done the same. But the "understandableness" of mistakes—and sin—does not, by any standards, provide the reason for excusing a transgression. To everyone of us, our God says, "He that covereth his sin shall not prosper, but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy."

Our community—and the world—will never improve as a comfortable place in which to live with people until there is ripped out of us the Pharisaical pride that just cannot stomach to be found guilty of sin.

People cannot get along with us who we stubbornly refuse to admit our wrongs—and most certainly God will not get along with us, either.

For He is ready to apply the forgiveness merited by His Son, Jesus, only to those who are truly forgiven. None can want forgiveness unless he admits that he needs it and confesses.

Public Helps Shape

Nation's Role In UN

(The following report on the United Nations has been submitted to the Illinois State City Provisional League of Women Voters.)

It would be worthwhile to examine some of the criticisms that are expressed against the United Nations.

The most often heard is that the large addition of memberships is composed mainly of Afro-Asian countries and could give rise to a coalition with the Soviet bloc in the General Assembly, which could lead to the passage of resolutions inimical to Western ideals and goals.

These views look at the key votes of the last General Assembly session shows that most of the Afro-Asian countries voted with the West rather than the Soviets. While they may vote in what they may consider an anti-colonial way on colonial issues, they tend to vote according to their own national interests and, basically, their goals are the same as western goals.

Need Freedom, Dignity

They want freedom, personal dignity and equality. However, in a direct issue between East and West, there is a disposition to abstain rather than to take sides. From the record, the only place where they are in the lead is in the maintenance of peace and the maintenance of the United Nations.

However, General Assembly action is limited to making recommendations; members are not pre-committed by the charter to join in collective enforcement actions by the General Assembly. As they are by the Security Council decisions.

Role Of Secretary-General

There is less criticism of the growth of responsibility given to the Secretary-General. During the tenure of Dag Hammarskjöld, the UN policy-making organ, increasingly entrusted him with broad diplomatic and operational functions.

The office force or the secretary-general is the Secretary-General. The Secretary-General is the greatest contribution any man can make to the kind of United Nations he wants and toward the type of U. S. participation in it he deems best.

SOME STAPH INFECTIONS

MONK, OTHERS SERIOUS

Have you had a pimple, stye, infected cut or blister within the past year? Chances are you have. Most of these skin conditions are caused by a staph infection.

Staph infections are extremely common, having been experienced by almost everyone. They are caused by the staphylococcus bacteria found on the skin and upon respiratory passages of most healthy persons.

While staphylococci are usually quite harmless, they may, as the aforementioned pimples, styes, infected cut or blister, invade the surface and cause minor infections, such as a staph infection.

On rare occasions, however, staph infection may take the form of a serious condition, such as pneumonia, meningitis, blood stream infection (bacteremia), infection of the heart (endocarditis), infection of the kidney (nephritis), or progressive spreading infections over the surface of the skin.

Difficult To Combat

Staphylococci are difficult to destroy. Not entirely, staphylococci are extremely hardy organisms, resistant to extremes of heat and cold, and to many of the chemicals commonly used in disinfectants.

Staphylococci have certain strains of staph proved resistant to commonly-used antibiotics, but the use of special antibiotics actually encourages the emergence of resistant staph and makes the situation worse.

TRAVEL POSTERS representing many foreign lands decorated the Venice school gymnasium Friday night to form an appropriate backdrop for a school band concert themed "Music Around the World." The band, under the direction of Irwin Ballard, played selections representing the music of various lands. Concluding the program were American numbers, including a Broadway musical selection.

TO KEEP YOUNG STAY HEALTHY

Anyone who lived to be fifty about a hundred years ago was considered very fortunate. Few were actively healthy at forty. Now, average life expectancy is in the seventies.

You are young as long as you have good health. New medical techniques assure more accurate diagnosis. New drugs, hormones and vitamins are positive acting. Go to your physician quickly when sick. He can help you to stay healthy and young.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?
